Delivery times can be delayed due to unforeseen circumstance that are out of our control such as changes in shipping schedules, strikes, carrier delays etc... Delivery is to your front door only and will require a signature of receipt. To make sure this happens, Art to Art will call you directly to arrange delivery and a time that suits you. It is important that you are home to receive the delivery in the agreed time, as you will be charged and obligated to pay Art to Art the delivery fee twice. Your acceptance of delivery acknowledges that the artwork arrived undamaged.

We strive to ensure that the utmost care is taken to get your artwork transported to you in its finest condition. We use experienced art handlers, ensuring it arrives safely, this is more expensive than a normal courier company but as most pieces are originals it is vital to the safe handling of your purchase.

International Customers

We ship to anywhere in the world. For international deliveries, just let us know where you want us to send it and we will give you a delivery quote. International Customers should be aware and are responsible for the following: any import requirements or restrictions, licences, duties, taxes and/or government charges that may apply to the products in your country; and any additional freight, postal or other charges that may be imposed over and above what would normally be incurred.

Packaging

Framed paintings and stretched canvases are bubble wrapped and covered in cardboard. Artworks unframed are carefully wrapped and sandwiched between cardboard and never rolled. If your painting is damaged please email us in writing within 24 hours so we can come to a resolution. Your business and happiness is important to us.

Availability

Although most items are in stock at most times, sometimes items sell out. If for any reason we do not have the items you have requested we will contact you immediately and let you know. We apologise in advance if this ever happens.

Most prints will last 100+ years under typical conditions but we advise avoiding direct sunlight as this could contribute to some types of art fading.

You may experience some colour variation on artworks as each piece is original and unique. Artworks on the website are only representative of colour and texture. Allow for some variation. If you are purchasing artwork unframed we suggest waiting until your painting arrives before you purchase a frame.

If you're unsure about any part of the ordering, delivery or returns process, please get in touch with us by email at enquires@arttoart.com.au and we'll get straight back to you.
